

Total Process Signs Five Year Lease with 1700 Pacific

(Dallas, TX) March 3, 2008 – Total Process recently signed a five year lease at 1700 Pacific Avenue in downtown Dallas, Texas.

Total Process was founded in January 2007 by two entrepreneurs, Jody Scott and Allen Van Wey, with a vision for the future of IT.

They provide and securely manage their client's entire IT infrastructure – from staff to network to hardware, such as routers, switches and servers, for one predictable monthly fee. "Our service helps eliminate the risks, unknowns, headaches and high capital expenses out of their client's IT operations and then we manage it for them," says Van Wey.

Total Process' proven approach to IT management ensures that their clients' IT cost center is always predictable and consistent, while providing access to the latest technology at a lower cost than what is paid for an in-house solution. Additionally, leveraging economies of scale to distribute the costs of network and systems engineers, help desk staff, data centers and managers across many clients, enables them provide technical support and around-the-clock monitoring at a fraction of the cost of an in-house solution.

"Companies will spend less on expensive IT talent and training while keeping pace with their growth objectives," says Scott, "and by having Total Process focus on managing your IT systems, you can focus on core business operations and profitability."
