

Total Process Open House August 21, 2008

(Dallas, TX) August 21, 2008 – Total Process Inc. has been up and running since January 2007, but recently had its open house which officially launched their services to the mass public.

Founded by two entrepreneurs with a clear vision for the future of IT services, Total Process has taken that vision and quickly made it a reality as they continue to grow as a company.

“We are proud to be headquartered in downtown Dallas and we are committed to supporting the Dallas/Fort Worth business communities” say Jody Scott, the company’s CEO.

As IT becomes more and more of a commodity, remotely IT managed services become more of a demand. Total Process is front and center of that demand, offering affordable, simple, well-engineered solutions to businesses managing their clients’ IT operations so they can focus on their core competencies.

Total Process provides and securely manages their client’s entire IT infrastructure – from staff to network to hardware, such as routers, switches and servers, for one predictable monthly fee. They take the risks, unknowns, headaches and high capital expenses out of their client’s IT operations and manage it for them.

Our proven approach to IT management ensures that your IT cost center is always predictable and consistent, while providing access to the latest technology at a lower cost than what you’d pay for an in-house solution. Spend less on expensive IT talent and training while keeping pace with your growth. Let Total Process focus on managing your IT systems so you can focus on core business operations and profitability.

How are you able to do that?

We leverage economies of scale to distribute the costs of network and systems engineers, help desk staff, data centers and managers across many clients, enabling us to provide technical support and around-the-clock monitoring at a fraction of the cost of an in-house solution
